

IF THE MEASURE PASSES THE BOND WOULD FUND:

New resources on the Community Safety & Justice Campus, including:

- A co-located Sheriff's Office and Emergency Operations Center for coordination and communication during major events and natural disasters, and for emergency response.
- A new correctional facility with increased capacity (up to 120 beds) and dedicated areas to provide mental health and addiction services.

Expanded and redesigned spaces in the County's Sunset Building for the Children and Family Program, which provides mental health treatment, wraparound services, and rural school-based programs, in a safe setting, for local youth and families.

Funding for homelessness services facilities, with the option of a homelessness services housing and navigation center, in partnership with Corvallis Daytime Drop-in Center, to help people build pathways out of homelessness.

IF THE MEASURE PASSES HOW MUCH WOULD IT COST?

If passed, the bond levy rate would be an estimated $0.55 per $1,000 of assessed property value. The cost would be an estimated $142 per year for a Benton County home with a median tax-assessed value of $258,596.

If the measure does not pass, facilities would not be built and property taxes would not increase.

WHY HAS THE COUNTY REFERRED MEASURE 2-140 TO THE VOTERS?

The vision of the Justice System Improvement Program is to address outcomes in treatment and accountability. In 2018, a comprehensive assessment of the justice system identified significant gaps in the mental health service array and community safety facilities.

The proposed facilities selected for the May 2023 bond were determined through a multi-year, community-involved planning process and are intended to address access to mental health services and community-based supports for all residents and to provide adequate space for accountability and treatment programs for adults in custody.
